this thought provoking book analyses the process of labour commodification through which the individual s ability to earn a basic living becomes dependent on the conditions of the market relationship building on the premise that the separation of a group of individuals from the means of production is an intrinsic element of capitalism fausto corvino theorises that this implies a form of domination in a neo republican sense have you ever wondered what separates a good company from a great one or a great one from a dominant company do you know why amazon completely dominates the e commerce market why does uber lose money and yet get valued at over fifty billion dollars why does netflix crush its competition dominant companies think differently they engineer their company completely around the customer and especially the customer experience whether they realize it or not dominant companies use a formula that conventional companies dont in this book you will learn about the hassle quotient and how companies that use it can dominate or take a good company to greatness or take a great company and dominate its market in today s world it s no longer enough to create great new products rather companies now must create whole new categories that destroy old ones uber created a new personal transportation category and destroyed taxis and limos salesforce com created a new category of cloud base sales automation dethroning the old crm industry airbnb workday tesla and netflix are all winning by creating entirely new business categories that destabilise old ones the category is the new strategy the conclusion if you want to build a legendary company you need to design and build a legendary category at the same time and dominate it over time your company needs to be a category king and if you don t design a category king you re creating a failure drawing on examples from within and beyond our own practice category kings shows both entrepreneurs and established enterprises how to define develop and rule a category over time
