this book provides a comprehensive overview of the work of women artists and designers in glasgow at the turn of the century it is an investigation into their lives their achievements and the historical circumstances in which they found themselves because of the breadth of its scope it has involved gathering together contributions by a number of scholars working in a variety of different specialisms several of the texts are reproduced from earlier articles which have proved so influential that it was felt they deserved to be brought to a much wider readership placed in the context of an extensive body of new writings the result is intended to offer as complete a survey of relevant scholarship in this field as is possible at the present time a wholly delightful novel allan massie scotsman lily crawford and jeanie taylor from very different backgrounds are firm friends from their childhoods in kirkcudbright they share their ambitions for their futures lily to be an artist jeanie to be a dancer the two women s eventful lives are intertwined in the years before the first world war the girls lose touch when jeanie runs away from home and joins a dance company while lily attends the mack glasgow s famous school of art designed by charles rennie mackintosh a chance meeting reunites them and together they discover a glasgow at the height of its wealth and power as the second city of the empire and a city of poverty and overcrowding separated once again after the war lily and jeanie find themselves on opposite sides of the world lily follows her husband to shanghai while jeanie s dance career brings her international fame but the glamour and dissolution of 1920s shanghai finally lead lily into peril her only hope of survival lies with her old friend jeanie as the two women turn to desperate measures to free lily from danger inspired by the eventful and colourful lives of the pioneering women artists the glasgow girls particularly that of eleanor allen moore daisy chain is a story of independence women s art resilience and female friendship set against the turbulent background of the early years of the 20th century this book explores how citizenship is differently gendered and performed across national and regional boundaries using citizenship as its organizing concept it is a collection of multidisciplinary approaches to legal socio cultural and performative aspects of gender construction and identity violence against women victimhood and agency and everyday issues of socialization in a globalized world it brings together scholars of politics media and performance who are committed to dialogue across both nation and discipline this study is the culmination of a two year project on the topic of gendered citizenship arising from an international collaboration that has sought to develop a comparative and yet singular perspective on performance in relation to key political themes facing our countries of origin in the early decades of this century the research is interdisciplinary and multinational drawing on indian european and north and south american contexts this book looks at aspects of glasgow history which have hitherto been ignored or overlooked by most historians the history of women in the city existing histories are the histories of the men who made glasgow great the inventors industrialists shipbuilders philosophers and men of medicine although every schoolchild knows the legends of st mungo no one knows the legend of his mother st thenew the strong machismo culture of the west of scotland has all but obliterated the contribution of women st thenew is actually scotland s first recorded rape victim battered woman and unmarried mother from the time of her death in the seventh century until the present day there is a discernable trail of oppression and violence against women at the same time there is a history of strong and sustained resistance to persecution achievement in the face of adversity and moral triumph in the teeth of injustice this work deals with women religion and the reformation social and political status the fight for equal rights and the history of the suffragettes because of the nature of the sources more space is given to women who stood up and stood out the 16th century orray woemen whom the town council could not control the revolutionary owenites and those brave women who threw bombs burned down big houses and went on hunger strike
